LOCAL MATTER.

E. C. WOODSON, City Editor.

RALEIGH, Oct. 4th.
Convention met at 10 o'clock, President Ransom in the chair.

Prayer by Dr. Pritchard, of this city.

Journal of Saturday read and approved.

Messrs. Bennett, Shepherd, Manning, Durham, Turner and Reid submitted reports from different committees.

Mr. Cooper submitted a petition from a citizen of Cherokee county relating to the suppression of liquor traffic. Referred.

Mr. Boyd arose to a question of personal privilege in regard to the Advertiser's report of his remarks Saturday on the public debt question.

INTRODUCTION OF ORDINANCES AND RESOLUTIONS.

By Mr. Badger, an ordinance in relation to the W. N. C. R. R.; provides that nothing in the Constitution shall prohibit the Legislature from completing this road, the State now owning the same. Referred.

By Mr. Holton, a resolution that the contestants from Robeson county, Messrs. Norment and McNeill, be paid per diem and mileage from the beginning of the session to the time of the decision of the question.

Rules suspended, and the resolution adopted.

CALENDAR.

Ordinance to strike out secs. 15, 16 and 17, art 4, and insert the following:

The General Assembly shall have no power to deprive the judicial department of any power or jurisdiction which rightly pertains to it as a coordinate department of the government, but the General Assembly shall have an absolute and exclusive right of legislation which does not pertain to the Supreme Court among the other courts prescribed in this Constitution, or which may be established by law, in such manner as it may deem best, provide also a proper system of appeals and regulate by law, when necessary, the methods of proceeding in the exercise of their powers, of all the people before the Supreme Court, so far as the same may be done without conflict with other provisions of this Constitution.

Mr. Bennett called the previous question, which call was sustained by a vote of 49 to 46, and the ordinance then passed its second reading by a vote of 50 to 46.

Mr. Young moved to lay the whole matter upon the table. Lost.

A motion to adjourn, by Mr. McCabe, was lost.

Mr. Young called the previous question, which call was sustained.

The question recurred on Mr. Jarvis' amendment to strike out the words "of more than five per cent." in relation to the special tax bonds, which was adopted.

Mr. Turner offered an amendment to strike out the words "in aid of any railroad corporation." Lost.

Mr. French's amendment to appoint a Board of Arbitration was lost.

The substitute from the Committee on Bill of Rights, submitted by Mr. Turner, as amended, was lost by a vote of 47 to 49.

The Convention adjourned at 5 o'clock p.m.

[The lateness of the hour at which the Convention adjourned prevented our giving a fuller account of the proceedings relating to the public debt.] —REPORTER.

Mr. Turner moved to strike out "shall" and insert "may." Lost.

The ordinance then passed its second and third readings almost unanimously.

On motion of Mr. Turner, the rules were suspended, and the ordinance declared that secret political societies are dangerous to the liberties of a free people and should not be tolerated, was considered and passed its second and third readings.

Ordinance to strike out sec. 33, art. 4 of the Constitution, being a proposal of the important question of repudiation of the special tax bonds—all the bonds might go—blazes; what cared he? But late in the evening, when we would laugh at him for his infatuation, he said he did not visit a single place where the elephants, kangaroos, Beecher and the steam man were posted but he found other members of the Convention alike admiring with wrapt attention, and some of them old and dignified men. Name them Jake, and we will furnish them with free tickets.

CHILLY.—The present season is peculiarly adapted to chills, and they prevail to no limited extent in our midst. It is generally conceded that a localized is proof against everything, but a genuine Arkansas ague—the kind they have out there in persimmon season, when it is only necessary to lean against a tree in order to shake the fruit down—attacked us Saturday night and shook us out of our boots. We are now sighing for genuine cold weather and the bracing breezes of mid-winter.

Mr. Jarvis, dem., explained the necessity of placing in the hands of the Legislature the power to arrange the jurisdiction of the Justices of the Peace, as occasion might at any time require a change, and not make it necessary to go to the expense of changing the Constitution when any change in this jurisdiction may be needed.

Mr. Barringer favored the ordinance to strike out. He had always favored the county court system. The present system worked injury to all classes and cheap courts should be established. Yet he thought no Legislature would ever do this, and hence that body should have the power to say where the jurisdiction of Magistrates should commence and end.

To our EASTERN SUBSCRIBERS.—Our papers Saturday failed to reach our subscribers at other points than Goldsboro on the W. W. R. R. owing to the N. C. train running off, and thus delaying the mail some six hours.

Notice to Correspondents.

No letter can be published in these columns which is not authenticated by the name of its author. This we require, not for publication, but as a guarantee of the good faith of correspondents. Persons who violate this rule will have their communications consigned to the waste-basket.

THE WEEKLY NEWS is the cheapest paper published in North Carolina. It is only one dollar per year. postage paid, contains 32 columns of plain printed news from every section of the country, and important advertisements. Always Cash.

ADVERTISERS will take a note of this: "a sign board can't tell everything. It takes an advertisement to do that." An advertisement is a sign board multiplied many thousand times. It makes each place of business familiar to the eye of the country reader. It establishes a bond of union between the buyer and the seller, established long before in the quiet perusal of the newspaper. Such a customer, visiting the city, will always give such advertiser preference over others in the same business. He goes at once to him as to an old friend.

A BILL for the relief of the East is now before the Convention. The original bill provided that Sec. 33 of Art. 4 of the Constitution defining and regulating the jurisdiction of Magistrates be abrogated, and that Justices of the Peace be elected by joint ballot of the General Assembly, and that Magistrates be commissioned by the Governor. A substitute was offered which was put on its second reading and passed yesterday morning, the effect of which will be to strike out the said section and leave the jurisdiction to be hereafter provided for by the Legislature.

THE GAME.

The Democrats will please bear in mind that the Republican party in the Convention have started out for the purpose of making the Democratic party responsible for the prolongation of the session of the Convention beyond the term proposed, if that should turn out to be the case.

It is a plan deliberately devised, and persistently adhered to, to obstruct the action of the Convention by every possible mode—by appeals, by raising points of order, by motions to adjourn, by incessant discussion of trivial objections, in fact by all the expedients of the parliamentary filibuster. This goes on from day to day, and during the past week, the work of the Convention has scarcely advanced at all.

The Democrats are in a majority just large enough to enable them to hold their own.

We call attention to this now. The Radicals are determined to attach whatever odium there is growing out of delay upon the majority.

There never was anything more unjust as there was never anything more apparent than their purpose to effect this object.

THE PEOPLE ARE SPEAKING.

The recent disgraceful scenes in the Convention are rousing the attention of the people to the remedies for such things and their application. The members can scarcely be aware of the impressions such scenes have made abroad, so inconsistent with the character and duties of the body. Possibly there may be no recurrence of them, but if otherwise, we call attention to the following from a valued correspondent, a member of the bar, who is watching the proceedings of the Convention with intense interest:

HILLSBORO, N. C., Oct. 23, 1855.
Dear Sir.—Have the majority in the Convention any rights?

Is it possible that a deliberative body in North Carolina cannot protect themselves?

The scenes described in your paper, Touree being chief actor, is a disgrace to the Sovereign State of North Carolina.

An humble citizen, I demand of the Convention its power in the land?" that they exert from their body any and all persons who do not obey the laws of said body.

Gentlemen of the Convention! arise!! awake!!!

Use the means that God, nature and the sovereign people place in your hands.

Explain from your body every person who does not submit to your rules.

The people of North Carolina will sustain you.

Very respectfully,

A LAW-ABIDING CITIZEN.

THE BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

The comparison between the business indications of this year as compared with last present some points of encouragement. The West and the South are absorbing large quantities of goods. This is, however, entirely owing to the excellence of the crops of all kinds. They furnish a ready medium of exchange which supplies the absence of a sufficient circulating medium. In that respect there can be no relief for many months to come; money will not come out of its retreats except to weigh itself against things of actual values. It will not flow into speculative channels, nor will it, for lack of established confidence, seek those investments which were so eagerly sought before the panic.

THE QUESTION FOR THE EAST.

It is not to be concealed that the whole East is roused upon one subject. It is the question of questions with them, to obtain relief through the Convention from the grievous burdens laid upon that whole section by negro domination. Without exception, the Democratic press of the East is clamorous for relief and with reason. For it is impossible that they should be patient under a system which makes the negro supreme in county government. The Magistracy in many counties are in the hands of that race. In some counties, as in Halifax, the majority of County Commissioners are negroes. In some the School Committees are controlled by negroes. In others again, the county officers are negroes.

This is a complete subjugation of the whites to the blacks, a reversal of that law of nature which makes intelligence supreme. It is the introduction into a portion of North Carolina of that system which has converted South Carolina into a perfect Hayti.

Will not the West think of this and come to the relief of the East? We know nothing to the contrary, and hope the Convention will take such action as the East demands. But time passes, and the East faints under the delay. The West will yield to facts and to sympathies, when it would not be influenced by threats which some of the Eastern journals have been spreading, of the olden times, and now Mr. Brown is disposing of the general catalogue of books as rapidly as possible, and at reasonable rates. The sale will last several days, and while it continues will attract greatly the attention of bookmen from all parts of the country. —Richmond Enquirer.

Inauguration of the Jackson Statue at the Capitol, Richmond City, Va.,—Meeting of the Association of the Army of Northern Virginia.

The Governor of Virginia having issued his proclamation designating Tuesday, the 26th of October, proximo, as the day for the inauguration of the statue of Lieutenant-General Jackson, of the Confederate army, the members of the Association of the Army of Northern Virginia, requested to be present in the city of Richmond on that occasion for the purpose of participating in the ceremonies of inauguration, and also of holding a meeting for the more general and efficient organization of the Brooklyn Argus.

DEATH OF A FORMER CONFEDERATE SURGEON.—Dr. John Taylor Gilmore, a native of Mississippi, died at his residence in Mobile, Ala., on the 19th of September. During the war he was a division surgeon in the Confederate service, serving with great usefulness in the Army of Northern Virginia, and it is supposed he performed a larger number of operations than any other Confederate surgeon.

The Book "ACTION-SAFE of the Library of the late Colonel Thos. H. Wyane." It is said that a gentleman of such exalted literary tastes, industrious research and splendid self-sacrifice, should have passed away from among us so early and so left the work of his busy life unfinished. The devotion of Mr. Wyane to letters, and his fondness for historical investigation and the collection of rare books and useful data, were facts well known to our community. He was indeed a man of great talents.

The Methodist are erecting in Savannah a handsome edifice, at a cost of $100,000, and asking contributions for its completion. It is the Wesleyan Methodist Church. John Wesley was in Savannah nearly one hundred and fifty years ago, and preached in Christ Church twenty months, where he was followed by George Whitefield. Wesley established a Sunday-school there fifty years before Robert Raikes began his work in Liverpool.

Recently a Protestant missionary of such exalted literary tastes, industrious research and splendid self-sacrifice, should have passed away from among us so early and so left the work of his busy life unfinished. The devotion of Mr. Wyane to letters, and his fondness for historical investigation and the collection of rare books and useful data, were facts well known to our community. THE DAILY NEWS.

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1875.

NORTH CAROLINA.

Wilmington boasts of a compress cotton machine.

Miss Annie Owen and Mr. Hock of Halifax were married in Wilmington one day last week.

Says the Newbern Daily Journal of Commerce of Friday: "We learn that a violent storm prevailed at the Beaufort yesterday, and that the wind and waves were so high that it was found impossible to cross the harbor from Morehead to Beaufort, the full extent of the damage has not yet been ascertained. We learn that a dispatch was sent to the city which stated that a man was drowned in one of the small harbor boats. The telegram did not disvulge the name of the unfortunate, nor his race."

The accident on the North Carolina last Saturday is thus described by the Charlotte Observer: "A very sad thing, an accident on the North Carolina Railr road, occurred on Friday night. The outgoing train from Charlotte ran off the track about 3½ miles from this city, everything except the engine leaving the track. The sleeper was the only one which left the track and this was turned over on its side. The glass was broken out of the windows, but this was not the only damage done to the car. Other cars were derailed and a gentleman had his foot slightly injured. In consequence of all the cars being off the track, the delay was very considerable, and the train did not get up until about 4 o'clock Yesterday morning. The track being obstructed, the incoming train was delayed about an hour and a half in getting into Charlotte yesterday morning."

The cause of the accident is a matter of doubt. It may have been that the track spread, but this is not very probable, and any other theory which has been advanced seems as improbable as this.

Says the Charlotte Observer: "Under way regarding the W. N. C. R. R."

We had a conversation, yesterday afternoon, with a gentleman who was present at the meeting of the stockholders of the Western North Carolina Railroad. This meeting, as we have previously stated, was for the election of a Commissioner for the road on the part of the private stockholders, they being entitled to one Commissioner and the State to three—

As was foreshadowed in these columns yesterday morning, Col. S.
Mc. Hale, of Morehead, was elected. The election was unanimous.

The Commission consists of W. W.
Wilson, W. S. Pearson, W. P. Canning and S. Mc. Hale.

At a meeting of the Commission on Friday night, W. W. Rollins was elected Chairman, Maj. W. A. Smith, Receiver of the Road, met with the Commissioners and turned the key over to them and with it, $8,000, of money of the road from the 1st of
May. The election was unanimous.

The election was unanimous.

The Commission consists of W. W.
Wilson, W. S. Pearson, W. P. Canning and S. Mc. Hale.
